For twenty-five years of that time I was a great sufferer from general de-bility and heart disease. For fifteen years I tried to quit, but couldn't. I took various remedies, among others "No-To-Bac." "The Indian Tobacco Antidote." Double Chlorideot Gold.' etc., etc., but none of them did me the least bit of good. Finally, however, I purchased a box of your "Baco" Curo" and it has entirely cured me of the habit in all its forms, and I have increased thirty pounds in weight and am relieved from all the numerous aches and prins of body and mind. Of course, not noly the Republicans, but a large number of Democrats, want to get rid of Jake Rowe as Commonwealth's Attorney, and to do so, the Republicans will put up a good man for his place. Hartford has some Republican lawyers who would make an ideal servant for the Commonwealth. We might mention Col. J. S. R. Wedding who has been practicing law for several years, and County Attorney E. one would be acceptable to our people and make a much better officer than any this district has had for some time. We have never talked to either of the gentlemen in regard to the matter and do not know whether they have any inclination in that direction. Mr. Neal is now County Attorney and will perhaps be a candidate to succeed himself.

Coming down to county politics, there will be a large number of candidates for the various offices to be filled in '97. The Republican party has good men and will make wise selections in naming their county ticket. Should Judge Morton be a candidate for re-election he will have opposition for the nomination, no doubt, in the persons of Esgrs. A. S. Aull. Jas. A. Park, C.L. Woodward, Jont B. Wilson, R.R. We have not heard of anyone being Fitzhugh, the present incumbent.

He is a first class officer and is always ready to attend to his duties. For Coroner there have been no one spoken of especially and we suppose Mr. Hunt would have no opposition for the nomination should he want it

Mr. Black will be a candidate for re-election to the office of Jailor and time, he was seized with rheumatic will have several in the field to op- pains, and red lumps and sores cov pose him for the nomination. Mr. Sam G. Rhoads, we learn, will be a candidate. At present we cannot call to mind any others.

Mr. Daniel will not be eligible for the office of Assessor, hence there will be several candidates for his place. Mr. C. D. Royal who was a candidate for the nomination in 1894 will be out for the place, as also will Thos. F. Johnson and C. T. Whittinghill. There will be others, but we have not heard of any at present.

I know of no one more plainly clad than Mme. Jas. de Rothschild and her daughter, Mlle. Jeanne. When I had the pleasure to call on them last summer during my stay in Chantilly, Mme. de Rothschild wore a very simple gown of black crepon, very simply made, and had on no jewels whatever but beautiful pearls in her ears. Mme. Jeanne had on a plain tailor made beige cloth dress, simply trimmed with galloons of a darker color. For President. WILLIAM McKINLEY, of Ohio.

For Congress. JOHN W. LEWIS. From 4th District of Kentucky.

Or course we are all entirely familiar with the facts in the case, that farmers were promised one dollar per bushel for wheat, if democrats were placed in power.

A great misfortune concerning the observance of the fourth of July is this: A large number of those who take part in the celebration are in profound ignorance as to the significance of that great day.

Hon. A.J. Gross, although a sound money man, stated at Chicago that he was for any man the Democratic convention might nominate, provided the nominee was not a Republican. This was a kick at the corpse of Hon. Henry M. Teller.

the largest known for years. We should be exceedingly thankful that a good corn crop is furnished us in these Democratic times-times of sore trials and great tribulations.

WE are told that Senator DuBoies wept when he found that he must leave the Republican party. Senator DuBoies knew he was wrong. His conscience smote him for his wickedness. We predict that Senator Du-Boies will soon come forward to the anxious seat and have his sins for-

JUDAS Iscariot betrayed the Lord for 30 pieces of silver. Henry M. Teller has deserted the Republican party for free silver, and it becomes more evident that he is to be rewarded for his teachery, if the Democratic party is victorious, which is a contingency too remote to be thought of. Henry, therefore, had better go out like Judas and burry himself.

In the coming campaign a great deal will be said about the government "stamp," about "fiat money" and about silver being used as money in the days of Abraham and Lot and The Christ himself. We will be told that because silver was used as money in ancient times, therefore we should have free and unlimited coinage at the ratio of 16 to 1 at this day; which is as logical a conclusion as a free silverite can arrive at.

MR. JACK CHINN was at the Chicago convention, and we are informed, was certainly surrounded by admiring friends. It is a disgrace to the country that such men should be prominent in any political party. The Democratic party, however, seems lost to all sense of shame. It is at present, according to the Courier- viating the necessity of issuing bonds Journal, in the hands of anarchists and Populists. There is not the least danger, however, of the country re- est nation and leading manufacturing maining in the hands of the Democratic party after next November.

If a free coinage law is passed, the man who owns one hundred dollars worth of silver bullion, can take it to the mints and have it coined into two hundred silver dollars. That is to say the silver in a dollar will be made just double its value. Free coinage laws at the feasted and wined and petted and ratio of 16 to 1 will make silver praised in London because of the owners just twice as wealthy as they

Hor. John G. Carlisle! We beg eave to submit to you a question: Pray, dear sir, where are you at?

"THE CRIME OF '73." Is Exists Only in the Minds of Those Who

Do Not Know Facts. For the benefit of the thousands of intelligent people who honestly believe that a crime was committed surreptitiously against silver in 1873, Congressman J. T. McCleary, of Minnesota, devoted considerable time, in his great speech of February 12, to a presentation of the important facts connected with the passage of the coinage act of 1873. The facts stand out so clearly and tell minded man should, after reading them, continue to believe that there was any "conspiracy" by anybody that caused the passage of this act. We can give but a few of the more salient points from Mr. McCleary's speech on this point: The original bill was prepared in the treasury department in the winter of 1869-70, by John Jay Knox, then deputy comptroller of the currency, under the direction of George S. Boutwell, then secretary of the treasury. The laws re-lating to the mint had not been revised for more than a generation, and much confusion existed. This bill was largely a codification of existing law, with such improvements as experience suggested. The first draft of the bill was submitted to leading experts on coinage and currency in this country, and to some in Europe. In this way the views of more than 30 men were obtained. Their answers were transmitted to the house in June, 1870, as a supplementary report on the bill. The consensus of opinion of these experts, and of those who discussed the bill in congress, was that it was simply to recognize legally what had practically existed, since the act of 1853, made gold the single standard of value and made silver subsidiary and legal tender only for sums not exceeding five dollar.s

The bill as introduced distinctly discontinued the silver dollar. One of the eight headings to the division in the reports accompanying the bill was as follows: "(5) Discontinuance of the silver dollar." This was printed in capitals. The discontinuance of the silver dollar was specially referred to in four places in this report.

Contrary to the suppositions and statements of many leading free silverites, the old ctandard dollars of 4121/2 grains was never in the coinage bill passed in 1873, and therefore it could not, as they allege, have been emitted surreptitiously. In May, 1892, the silver dollar containing 384 grains was introduced into the bill. Like the silver half-dollars it did not have "free coinage" or full tender. This was the dollar which was afterward dropped out of the bill and in place of which the trade dollar of 420 grains, with unlimited coinage, but limited tender, was substi-

From the contemporary records it is clear that the bill was before congress for about three years; that it was printed 11 times separately and twice in re-ports of the comptroller of the currency; that it was considered at length by the finence committee of the senate and by the coinage committee of the house during five different sessions; that it was carefully debated in both houses, the debates in the senate occupying 66 columns and those in the house occupy; ing 78 columns of the Congressional Globe, and it finally passed substantially as it was originally introduced. Every feature of the bill was thoroughly explained in the original report acpanying the bill, and repeatedly afterward in the debates on the bill it

There doubtless were persons in both houses who did not pay attention to either the report or the discussions, for at that time such subjects were regarded as of interest only to experts. but it certainly cannot be truthfully said that they did not have full opportunity to know all about it.

So far as concerns the coinage of gold and silver, there were just two important provisions in the act of 1873namely, the unlimited coinage of gold and the limited coinage of silver. Both of these provisions have endured and will endure, because, as I have shown already, this is the only way in which we can have the use of both metals as money at the same time. And though some very excellent gentlemen in congress in 1878, when the wave of "free silver" threatened to overwhelm everyone opposed to it, may have said some foolish things about the act of 1873, it is a significant fact that not a single republican of those quoted as saying these things, unless he lives in a silver-pro ducing state, has ever voted to repeal the essential provisions of the act of 1873 above cited. Except as to the trade dollar (which was inserted as a special concession to the silver producers), the act of 1873, based upon the experience of centuries, framed by men preeminent for ability and integrity, discussed in all its phases during the three years when it was before congress, will be recorded in history as one of the wisest and best pieces of legislation ever enacted by the congress of the United Its details may be changed but its fundamental principles will en-

Occasionally we hear a man ask: "Why didn't the newspapers say more about the act at the time of its passage?" The answer is plain. It was because of their being newspapers, not ancient histories. There was nothing new in principle or practice in the bill. It was largely a reenactment of existing law, properly codified. Why did the bill give gold unlimited coinage and Because all mint laws in existence did so. Why did it restrict the coinage of subsidiary silver and limit its tender to five dollars? Because these were the provisions of the act of February 21, 1853. Why did it omit from coinage the old standard silver dollar? Because that had been the intent of the act of 1853. In 1853 the dollar was tempt was made to bring it back into circulation. Why did it make the gold dollar the unit of value? Because it had really been the metallic unit since 1834. And this was the avowed intention of The truth was that in 1872 the silver dollar was worth for bullion 31/4 cents more than the gold dollar and that silver dollars had not been in circulation for many years. As Congressman Hooper said on April 9, 1872, when dis cussing the silver dollar: "It does not circulate now in commercial transac tions with any country, and the convenience of these manufacturers in this respect can better be met by supplying small stamped bars of the same stand-

And Mr. Kelley, who is reported as having said afterward that he "did not know that the bill omitted the standard silver dollar," said on this same day "It is impossible to retain the double standard. The values of gold and silver continually fluctuate. You cannot determine this year what will be the relative values of gold and silver next year. They were fifteen to one a short time

They are sixteen to one now." "Hence all experience has shown that you must have one standard coin which shall be a legal tender for all others. and then you may promote your domes-tic convenience by having a subsidiary coinage of silver, which shall circulate in all parts of your country as legal tender for a limited amount and be redeemed at its face value by your government."

In another place in the same speech Mr. Kelley said: "Every coin that is not gold is subsidiary."

Even Mr. Stewart, then as now a senator from Nevada, said on February 20, 1874:

"By this process we shall come to specie basis, and when the laboring man receives a dollar it will have the purchasing power of a dollar and he will not be called upon to do what is impossible for him or the producing classes to do, figure upon the exchanges, such a straightforward story that it figure upon the fluctuations, figure upon would seem impossible that any fair the gambling in New York. But he will know what his money is worth Gold is the universal standard of the world. Everybody knows what a dollar in gold is worth."

The remarks of Mr. Kelley in the house in 1872 and those of Senator Stewart in 1874 show that at that time, before the tremendous output of silver turned men's heads, there was practically undivided opinion on the subject. The bill had been before congress three years, it had been repeatedly discussed, there was nothing new or startling in it, and hence there was no call for any extended notice of its passage.

But the facts are seen to be that the bill was passed openly and honestly. It embodies the principles of sound mintage, and it undoubtedly saved us from going to a sflver basis on the resumption of specie payments. And, therefore, the men who framed it and those who passed it deserve and will receive the grateful thanks of ourselves and our posterity.

After becoming acquainted with the facts, how ridiculous seems the following statement from Coin's Financial "In the language of Senator Daniel, of Virginia, it (the act of 1873) seems to have gone through congress like the silent tread of a cat." Yet this is but a sample of the false statements made by most of the leading silverites. The following summary of procedure indicates how "like the silent tread of a cat" the act of 1873 stole

Gold Cause Becoming Popular There were two interviews printed in the News recently which ought to set people thinking. It was shown in one of these interviews that the banks are already beginning to call in their paper, even paper which at other times they would have been glad to renew. This tendency on the part of lenders of money will grow stronger as the situagrows more uncertain. Men who lend money on a gold basis will take no chances of being repaid in cheap silver. This is shown by the practice of the building associations, as described in the other interview. The secretary of e of these associations said that there had been hardly a building association mortgage made in the past three years which did not contain a gold clause. We quote his words: "I do not believe it is generally known that nearly every building and loan as sociation in this city and in the state, I suppose, has put in every mortgage it has taken for the last three years a clause to the effect that the loan shall be paid in gold, if demanded by the association. The association of which I am secretary has out $470,000, and that clause is in every mortgage."-Indianapolis News, June 11.

What Do They Care for Experience To open the floodgates and permit the world's volume of silver to flow to our the hope and belief that the market value of silver would be thereby advanced to $1.29 an ounce seems to me to be dream so extravagant as to be beyond the possibility of realization. If free age by this country alone would not only arrest the decline of silver, but restore its market value, why is it that such a result has not been attained in the countries where free coinage is permitted? The mints of Japan, Mexico and several of the countries of South America-Peru, Bolivia and Ecuador-are to-day open to the free and unlimited coinage of both gold and silver, yet kept at a parity with its coinage value More than this, no nation on the globe to-day has its mints open to the free and unlimited coinage of both gold and silver that is not confessedly on a silver basis with gold at a premium. What reason have we, therefore, as a nation to expect any different results if we should venture on such an experiment? From reason and experience I am forced to the conclusion that to open our mints to the free and unlimited coinage of silver at the ratio of sixteen to one without the cooperation of the leading commercial nations of Europe would quickplunge the nation to a silver basis and create such a disturbance in our monetary system as to involve its tota! destruction.—Hon. Do You Know that one of the reasons for granting this government protection was because Castoria had been proven to be absolutely harmless?
